MASSILLON NEWS

Special to the Morning News.
 Massillon, April 13.—A good sized gathering of the Socialists of the city, heard the address of Frank Midway, "Socialism vs. Individualism" a reply to the recent lecture of Frank Dixon upon "Man and the Masses," in the Trades and Labor Assembly hall Sunday afternoon. The speaker who is a well known Socialist of Dayton, was introduced to the assembly by C. T. Wikstrom, president of the Trades and Labor assembly.

Mrs. Anna Weiner, aged 80 years, died at the home of C. D. Bash, south of this city at two o'clock Sunday morning. Death resulted from the infirmities of old age. She is survived by two brothers, Mathias Blough, of Canton, and John Blough of Mt. Carmel, Ill., and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Palmer, of Bloomfield, Ind. Mrs. Weiner was born in Navarre, in the pioneer days of that place. Her father, the Rev. John Blough was one of the first residents of Stark county, and perhaps the first minister of the gospel to settle in this community. The funeral will be held from the residence of Mr. Bash at 12 o'clock today noon, and later from the Blough church south of Navarre, where interment will be made.

The committee on subscriptions for the new sheet steel mill are still working to collect the required amount necessary for the coming of the concern. The subscriptions are coming in at an ordinary rate and the committee say that it is up to the citizens to say whether or not the enterprise shall be a go.

Robert H. Day, E. C. Merwin, C. A. Gates, F. P. Taggart all of the Massillon Board of Trade returned Saturday afternoon from Washington, where they made an appeal to Congressman Kennedy for the erection of a postoffice building in this city. The committee met both Congressman Kennedy and Senator Dick, who pledged their support in favor of the making of an appropriation for a federal building for Massillon.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Ellen Smith, who died Friday, was held from the late residence on Wooster street, at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Interment was made in the Massillon cemetery.

COUNTY FUNDS

Examiners Look Over Books and Find Them Correct.

Yesterday afternoon, after making a careful examination of the books in the office of M. W. Oberlin, auditor for Stark county, the state examining board filed a report with the probate judge, C. C. Bow. The books were found to be in fine shape, and a great deal of praise was given to Mr. Oberlin, as auditor, and Harry Knobloch, as treasurer, by the examiners for the accurate method employed by them.

The following is the report as given out by the state examiners:

AKRON BOY OF 10 TO WRITE A BOOK

Cleveland, April 13.—To study the juvenile court problem and write a book on it, Lucien Fairchild, 10, is in Cleveland.

He is the son of Lorenzo Fairchild, Akron business man and philanthropist.

The boy has taken a great interest in the movement to improve the welfare of juvenile offenders. He has read largely on the subject.

To add practical knowledge to his theories, he is in Cleveland as the guest of Mrs. Louise A. Stegman, probation officer of the court. He spent Sunday at Judge Addams' house and was in juvenile court Monday listening to cases on trial.

NIGHTLY SALES

A Little Talk to Merchants

What would you think of a business man who hired a salesman at a good salary, and then told him to go home every day at noon and stay home for the rest of the day?

Yet many business men are really doing that when they close at six o'clock and fail to keep their windows lighted up in the evening to catch the "after dark" trade.
